

Alex Durrer Principal

Alex Durrer (Swiss) is a Principal and responsible for the Economic Research at LGT Capital Partners in Pfaeffikon, Switzerland.

Before joining the firm in 2001, Mr. Durrer spent a decade with Swiss Re Group in Zurich and New York as an economist and financial officer in the areas of Economic Research & Consulting, Financial Products and Corporate Financial Management. As chief economist at LGT Group and a Liquid Market Committee member, he is instrumental in determining the LGT Capital Partners investment policy. Mr. Durrer is responsible for the economic research publications "Investorama" and "Beacon". He has also been in charge of writing and presenting market assessments, as well as the LGT economic and market outlook for over 15 years.

He received his PhD in Economics and Business Administration from the University of St. Gallen (HSG). He is fluent in German, English and French.